

CENTER FOR VICTORY PRIVACY POLICY

This privacy and cookies policy describes how Center for Victory (“we” or “us”) treats information that you provide to us or that we collect through the use of our website, www.centerforvictory.com (“Website Privacy Policy”), including how we use such information, how we protect the security of such information, and how you may change or request that we amend such information from our systems. This includes any information associated with you (such as your name, title, email address, or phone number) that is supplied to us in connection with your use of our Website, as well as information we generate regarding your use of the Website. In either case, this is the information that does, or can be used to identify you (“personal information”). This Website Privacy Policy applies solely to personal information collected through the use of the Website.

Please note that our Website contains links to other sites not owned and/or operated by us. Therefore, these sites may have privacy policies that differ from our Website.

This Website Privacy Policy is effective as of July 1, 2019.

WHAT INFORMATION DO WE COLLECT THROUGH OUR WEBSITE?

HOW IS THIS INFORMATION USED?

WEBSITE CONTACTS

We collect certain personal information through the Website when you choose to submit such information to us through email, an online form or other method (such as contacting us through our “Contact Us” Website function). This may include, but is not limited to, a person’s name, company name, physical address, telephone number, and email address and includes such personal information you provide to us in order to request additional information about our products and services, employment opportunities, or for other purposes. We use personal information collected through our Website to respond to specific requests for information.

You do not need to provide this personal information to us, but if you do not, we will not be able to respond to your communication. We collect and use this personal information for our legitimate business interests to understand customer/potential customer feedback and respond to sales requests. We will keep this information for as long as you have a relationship with us, or if you do not have a relationship with us beyond this communication, for a reasonable length of time that lets us understand how people use our Website.

WEBSITE VISITORS

We also maintain a log of certain information concerning visitors to our Website, including but not limited to a visitor's IP address (a computer's numerical Internet address), the websites from which visitors access our Website, the type of web browsers used to access our Website, the device used to access our Website, and the pages viewed. Such information may be treated as personal information under certain applicable local law. We only use this type of information to understand how our Website is accessed and how it is used.

MARKETING

If we have collected your personal information through our Website or through other channels (such as if you have exchanged contact information with one of our consultants or have included your personal information in an event registration form), and we have permission to do so, we will use your personal information to inform you about our products and services and to gather feedback from you on our Website and services. You may unsubscribe from any marketing communications at any time by selecting the opt-out link which will be contained in any such email or communications that you receive or by contacting us at info@centerforvictory.com.

COOKIES

We also collect information about Website users through "cookies" – small pieces of information sent by a web server to a web browser which allow the web server to uniquely identify the browser on each page.

LEGAL REQUIREMENTS

We will also disclose personal information (1) in response to lawful requests by public authorities (including to meet national security or law enforcement requirements) and (2) in our sole discretion, if we believe that such disclosure is appropriate in connection with an official government or regulatory investigation or in response to a perceived significant threat to a person's health or property or to our business.

We may also process your personal information, if necessary, in the defense of a legal claim. We will not delete personal information if relevant to an investigation or dispute. It will continue to be stored until those issues are fully resolved.

HOW DOES CENTER FOR VICTORY PROTECT THE SECURITY OF MY PERSONAL INFORMATION?

We have implemented and maintain an information security program that includes administrative, technical, and physical safeguards and other security measures necessary to (a) ensure the security, confidentiality, and integrity of your personal information; (b) protect against any anticipated threats or hazards to the security, confidentiality, and integrity of your personal information; (c) protect against unauthorized access to, destruction, modification, disclosure or use of your personal information; and (d) detect and respond to security incidents involving your personal information. We permit persons working for us to access and use your personal information only to serve our legitimate business and our customers' service needs, in accordance with this Website Privacy Policy.

HOW CAN I CHANGE, UPDATE OR DELETE MY PERSONAL INFORMATION, OR REQUEST THAT I NOT BE CONTACTED?

You can change or update your personal information at any time. In order to change, update or delete any personal information, please contact us by calling us at 724-462-8383 or emailing us at info@centerforvictory.com.

HOW WILL I BE NOTIFIED OF CHANGES TO THIS WEBSITE PRIVACY POLICY?

From time to time, we may change and/or update this Website Privacy Policy. We recommend you regularly review this page.
